Last Chance to Invite Friends to see The Wanted Man!

Hi,

I'm Derek Cromwell, The Wanted Man.

For the last few weeks, you have been getting to know me through these bulletin inserts, and I hope your curiosity is aroused at this point, but more than that... I hope that your concern for your lost and un-churched friends is at an all time high!

Having somebody come and do a concert is nice and all, but bringing the lost, especially our lost friends and family, into situations where the gospel will be presented in a unique and unassuming way is what my ministry is all about.

This is the last bulletin insert you will get before I come and visit with you. Unlike most musicians that tour churches, I wanted you to know me and my ministry before I came so you would feel comfortable with me, and so you would also feel comfortable introducing me to your friends and family. My deepest desire is that through my time with you, someone you love will accept Jesus Christ as their Personal Lord and Savior. This is what I pray for, hope for, and work for.

I only ask that you will invite those dear souls to this concert, and that you pray for them in the time that remains that their hearts may be ripe for the harvest, and for me that the Lord have his way with me that I would be a vessel for his purpose in pouring out his spirit in this place.

For the past several weeks, my prayers, and the prayers of my volunteer staff, has been focused on my upcoming visit with you. For your convenience, the person responsible for inviting me to your church will have some materials for you to give to your friends to help you in inviting them.

And if the Lord should return before I have the opportunity to make your acquaintance in person in this world, look for me at the Throne of our Lord, I'll be the one with the Southern Accent looking for you!

Always In His Loving Service,

Rev. Derek L. Cromwell, The Wanted Man
